	Programmer,

3. Team Organization

How will you communicate?	Slack Channel
Where/when will you meet?	University Campus
How will you share files?	Github, Email, or Google Drive
What operating system will you use?	Windows or Linux
What editor(s) will you use?	Visual Studio
What editing style will you use?	Good Commenting
Any additional considerations?	We all expect to provide input and work into all areas of the project, so that not one single person is doing one single task

4. Expectations from Team Members (e.g., Attend all meetings – Bring donuts after missing a meeting, Complete project task before class – Kicked out of team if not completed 3 times, Be open to contributions and ideas from all team members, etc.)

Expectation	Consequence if expectation not met
Attend all meetings. Will have at least one meeting per week after tutorial	Make sure you catch up what was missed
Contribute ideas	No consequence
Do the work that is expected of you. If you need help or have questions, ask for it	If you don't do your work and/or ask for help if you need it, then there will be consequences
Communication is key. Keep in touch	If you disappear for an extended period of time there will be consequences
Follow the rules	If rules and guidelines aren't met, then the warning system will be used
Weekly Meetings	We will meet after tutorial every Tuesday and if needed after lecture to go over goals for the week
Consequences	Bring coffee/Timbits next meeting
Warning System	If a meeting is missed without communication, deadline missed, etc, a strike will be given. 3 strikes and you're out
